

Printing Reports in Flexmls™

We have endeavored to have most reports print on a single page. In some cases, the amount of information printing will force reports onto multiple pages.

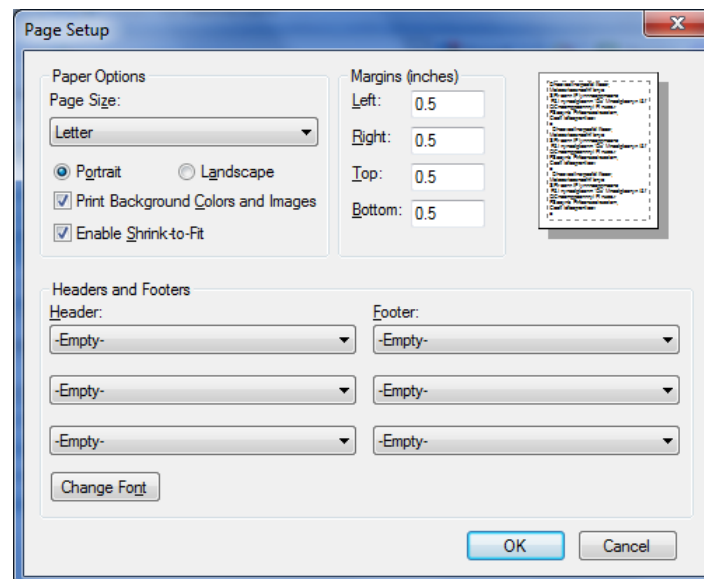

In other cases, the margins and headers/footers that are set up in your browser can also make your report print on multiple pages.

To change page setup, click on the Page Setup option in the Printer settings.

From there, you may alter your page margins and set all headers and footers to Empty.

These options should also be available in other browsers as well.
