

REALTOR® Association Models

The ultimate role of the REALTOR® organization is to help shape and influence a favorable business environment for its members. Each REALTOR® association has the responsibility to efficiently and effectively provide value to its members. While the operating framework in which an association chooses to serve its members may vary depending on its organizational structure, demographics, size, available resources, and diversity of needs, there are many creative ways to deliver and optimize value, even with limited resources.

The three models below define services associations provide. These models should be viewed as just three points on a continuum, and not just in their pure sense. Associations should not expect to fit neatly into any one model; rather it is likely that many associations are operating in all modes, depending upon the function or service. For example, an association may fall predominantly into the Administrative Model, but its governance may be more closely aligned to the Management Model. Volunteer and staff leaders may use these models as a guideline to assess their current operations and determine where they aspire to be in delivering value. This document will also help them determine how they can partner with other associations to expand the menu of services they can offer their members.

Associations will benefit and prosper from this planning tool if their volunteer and staff leaders work together as partners to identify their model of choice based on their association's business philosophy and member needs and preferences.

Administration Model	Management Model	Leadership Model
Operating philosophy: An administrative association is member-focused, supports general organizational functions of REALTOR® constituencies and knows where to find information that is important to members in conducting their daily business activities. In such associations, staff will possess a general familiarity in legal, regulatory and business issues impacting the association and staff will efficiently administer association business. It relies on significant volunteer involvement both for virtually all association decisions and some logistical details, as well as working relationships with other service organizations.	Operating philosophy: A management association is a source of information and is proficient in identifying and proactively communicating business practices and trends that impact the association's member constituencies. In such associations, the staff will possess a proficiency in managing and communicating legal, regulatory and business issues impacting the association and will effectively manage association business. It relies on volunteer involvement for much association decision making and participates in working relationships with other service organizations.	Operating philosophy: A leadership association initiates policy formation and advocacy on all levels and seeks and implements innovative and creative programs, products and services that ultimately provide enhanced value for all REALTOR® association constituencies. This model presumes a high level of sophistication, innovation and proactivity. In such associations, the staff will possess expertise and provide leadership in legal, regulatory and business issues impacting the association and will transparently manage association business. It relies on volunteer input and strategic partnerships and initiates working relationships with other service organizations.
