January 2005 Residential Home Sales

"2005 has started off as expected, with no dramatic changes to the dynamic real estate market we have been experiencing," said Judy Lowe, President of the Tucson Association of REALTORS® Multiple Listing Service, Inc. "There is however, a fairly significant decrease in the level of active listings from last year, as well as a decrease in days on the market, with over 50% of listings selling in the first 30 days. This could challenge buyers to make decisions more quickly, and encourage those who might be evaluating whether to list their properties sooner or later with some unique choices. Additionally, we continue to see great opportunity for sellers to realize large equity returns in property values, with the prospect for reinvestment in the market."

Home Sales Volume: Increased 49% from $167,132,900 in January, 2004, to $249,161,361 in January, 2005.

Home Sales Units: Increased 16.9% from 929 units sold in January, 2004, to 1,086 units sold in January, 2005.

Average Sale Price (all residential types): Increased 27.5% from $179,906 in January, 2004, to $229,430 in January, 2005.

Median Sale Price (the price at which half the homes were sold above and half below): Increased 18.4% from $148,000 in January, 2004, to $175,295 in January, 2005.

Average Sale Price (single family residences): Increased 25.8% from $193,004 in January, 2004, to $242,850 in January, 2005.

Average Days on Market: Decreased from 56 in January, 2004, to 45 in January, 2005, with 53.8% of all closed listings selling in the first 30 days on the market.

Pending contracts (transactions subject to contract but not yet closed escrow): Decreased 14.4% from 1,470 in January, 2004, to 1,259 in January, 2005.

Active Listings: Decreased 28.5% from 4,856 in January, 2004, to 3,470 in January, 2005

New Listings: Decreased 11.7% from the 2,204 listings added in January, 2004, to the 1,947 listings added during January, 2005.
